

PROTECT, PERPETUATE DEMOCRACY—F. D. R.

AXIS PARTNERS
HOLD SECRET
PARLEY TODAYHitler Confers With His Sorely-Pressed War
Partner, MussoliniSAY LEADERS IN COMPLETE ACCORDDictators Are Expected To Touch Upon Three Particular Points

(By Associated Press)
Adolf Hitler and his sorely-pressed war partner, Benito Mussolini, met at an undisclosed spot today amid Fascist assertions that a vast, new German-Italian offensive was brewing against Britain in the Mediterranean war theater.
A German communiqué said that the conference exemplified "the close fighting alliance existing between the German and Italian people" and that the two leaders were
"in complete accord."

Discussion Points
With official details lacking, it was assumed in well-informed quarters that the discussion touched upon these subjects:
1. The Greek and North African campaigns, and how Hitler can rescue Italy's battered legions.
2. The battle of Britain, with probable emphasis on the question of delivering a knockout blow before American aid becomes effective.
3. Axis policy toward the United States as a result of President Roosevelt's program of help for Britain.

In Rome, Fascist Editor Virgilio
Gayda, frequently known as Mus-solini's mouthpiece, declared:
"The axis in the Mediterranean is assured that the war will continue to develop in this area, with increased forces capable of facing and beating down increased enemy forces."

While the axis leaders conferred,
the British reported still another success in the drive to "tear Italy's African empire to tatters and shreds"—as promised by Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Italians Routed
British troops in East Africa were reported today to have routed two Italian divisions (about 24,000 men) and inflicted 2,600 casualties in fierce fighting around the town of Kassala, in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

F. D. R. 27th Man
In Nation's 38th
Inaugural Rites

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Today is the 38th presidential inauguration in American history, only Franklin D. Roosevelt is only the 27th man to go through the public ceremony.

It works out this way:

Mr. Roosevelt is either the 31st or 32nd president, depending on whether Cleveland's separated terms are counted once or twice.
Four chief executives had been vice president who stepped up suddenly when the president died and therefore did not take the oath before cheering crowds.

Although Mr. Roosevelt is the only president to be elected three times, 10 others were inaugurated twice. They were Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Jackson, Lincoln, Grant, Cleveland, McKinley and Wilson.

Theodore Roosevelt and Calvin Coolidge served more than a full term each, but their first terms were taken privately after the death of their predecessors, under whom they had been vice president.

U. S. EXPRESSES ITS REGRET OVER
FLAG INCIDENT IN SAN FRANCISCOWASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Renewed although unofficial German demands for satisfaction today raised the question of whether the state department would go beyond its written expression of regret over the destruction of the German consulate's swastika flag in San Francisco.

The state department expressed its regrets over the incident yesterday in response to a protest from the German embassy. Hours later authorized sources in Berlin announced that the German charge d'affaires here had been instructed to ask punishment of the two men arrested in the case, as well as as-urances that the consulate would be permitted to fly the flag.

There was some speculation that the authorized sources were unaware of the note the state department already had sent. This note was not an apology because, diplomats here explained, governments customarily do not apologize for acts which they attribute to individuals.

The state department informed the embassy disposition of the case would be made by San Francisco authorities.

In the meantime the two United States naval enlisted men arrested by San Francisco police on malicious mischief charges in connection with the case were released from jail on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by two American Legion officials.

The Legionnaires argued that, instead of being punished, the pair should be commended for preventing violation of the military and veterans code of California. The code makes it a felony to display any emblem which is an "invitation or a stimulus to anarchistic action or as an aid to propaganda."

Adolf Hitler, the Legion officers contended, advocated overthrow of the governments of all democracies.

One of the men arrested, Harold J. Sturtevant, 22, said that he might not have ripped the flag from its pole Saturday if he had known it had been placed there by a consular. He explained he wanted to head off what looked to him like an impending riot by the crowd which gathered after the flag was unfurled.

Held with Sturtevant was E. G.
Lackey, 23. The two, in civilian clothes, were on leave from the Marine island navy yard, where they were awaiting release from the Navy because of disability.

NEW COURT TERM
IS OPENED TODAYFifty-Three Witnesses Are Called As Grand Jury
Begins InvestigationsLISBON, Jan. 20.—Judge Joel H.
Sharp, who on Jan. 1, ascended to the common pleas bench of Colum-biana county, this morning formally closed the September term of court and officially opened the new January term, with the impaneling and charging of the grand jury.

Prosecutor Frank W. Springer,
and his assistant, James F. Elliott, who will guide the grand jury in its investigations, have summoned 53 witnesses to testify in 13 cases to be considered today, while an additional 20 witnesses will be heard in seven cases to wind up the investigations on Tuesday.

Charges to be investigated include reckless driving, auto theft, breaking and entering, petty larceny, robbery, and assault and battery.

The following grand jurors were seated today:
Frank Wellington, R. D. Iron-
dale; W. C. Helman, Salem; Edward Grubbs, R. D. Salem; J. E.
Smith, Wellsville; Jeanette Adams,
Wellsville; Mrs. Louise Dickey, Rogers; Jesse Vernon, East Liverpool; Mrs. Alice Baillie, East Liverpool; Clyde Binsley, Lisbon, and Charles Russell of Wellsville who was appointed foreman.

Owing to the fact that only 10 out of the 25 persons drawn could be present, Sheriff George Hayes called in five talesmen, all of Lisbon, to complete the jury. They are D. S. McMinn, Harry Har-baugh, Donald Prosser, John Nobie and C. M. Brownfield.

Judge Sharp instructed the jurors to inquire into any matters that seemed necessary, and to consider the evidence without fear or favor. He added that they might investigate present county laws.

Eleven persons were injured in five traffic accidents on district highways over the weekend, according to state patrolmen.

Charles Watkins, 66, of Lisbon, county highway department employee, suffered a fractured collar bone and lacerations to his head, when the county ash truck, on which he was standing, was struck by an automobile, driven by Fred Lottman, 19, of Salem, on the Depot road, at 1 a. m. Sunday.

An automobile, driven by Arthur Spooner, 37, of New Galilee, Pa., and a truck, operated by Thomas L.
Seibert, 23, of Pittsburgh, collided on Route 14 at 1:05 a. m. Sunday.
Injured in the accident were Spooner's wife, Harriet; his son, Arthur Jr., aged 17, and his daughter, Bernice, aged 14.

Gabriel Gachesa, 49, of R. D. 1,
New Springfield, a guard at Milton dam, had his nose broken when pick-up truck collided with another truck on Route 46, south of Can-field, at 10:45 p. m. Saturday.

Mrs. Bernice Wyss, 27, of R. D.
1, Beloit, and her two sons, Lee, 4,

Osborn St., Youngstown, owner of the parked car, told state patrol-

Absentees Fewer Today

The flu siege at Salem High school was believed by school officials to have reached its peak when 200 students, 75 less than on Friday, were reported absent.

Meanwhile, in other buildings today the number of pupils home with colds remained about the same as on Friday, Supt. E. S. Kerr announced.

KENSINGTON MAN
IS TRAFFIC VICTIMGeorge Leroy Oyer, 18, Farmhand, Dies After Being Hit By Cars

Treacherous ice, spread across Ohio by a wave of cold following rain and snow, played a supporting role as traffic killed at least 15 persons in Ohio during the weekend.

Among these fatalities was George Leroy Oyer, 18, of Kensington, who was injured fatally Saturday night when he was struck by a hit-skip and another automobile on Route 62, about two miles east of Canton.

Oyer, lying on the road after the hit-skip car had fled, was first observed by Dana J. Eddieblute of Alliance, who barely averted striking the youth.

While Eddieblute went to call Stark county sheriff's deputies, still another automobile, driven by a Canton man who did not see Oyer until too late to avoid him, struck the youth again.

Oyer had been employed as a farmhand by M. R. Moormaw, to whose home he was walking at the time of the mishap.

Deputies reported that parts of a headlight lens and a foglight lens were found at the scene and added that they were continuing their investigation along these lines.

According to Watkins, the band-

McKEESPORT, Pa., Jan. 20.—A tention while there and probably a terrific shock in the form of a bill when they leave.

Attendants said the man, who collapsed on the street, had in his colliery $120 in cash, bank books showing $200 in one account and $4,000 in another. Further investi-

Warnings Sounded
By President In
Inaugural SpeechTells Nation People Facing Great Perils
Never Before Encountered

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—President Roosevelt declared today that "democracy is not dying" and "cannot die," and to thousands massed before the nation's capitol and to other millions throughout the land, he proclaimed this purpose of his next four years in office:

"In the face of great perils never before encountered, our strong purpose is to protect and to perpetuate the integrity of democracy.

"For this we must the spirit of America, and the faith of America.
"We do not retreat. We are not content to stand still. As Americans, we go forward, in the service of our country, by the will of God."

References to the "spirit of America," and the "spirit of democracy" were frequent in the 1,200-word speech which Mr. Roosevelt delivered as a veritable sermon on democracy.

In contrast to the equally dramatic address of eight years ago when the nation labored through domestic crisis and when he spoke of specific problems, the chief executive, in undertaking his third term, used broad phrases of an almost religious intensity—emphasized time and again his faith in American democracy.

There are those today, he said,
who believe that "tyranny and slavery have become the surging wave of the future—and that freedom is an ebbing tide."

"But," he declared, "we Americans know that this is not true."

Emphasizes Faith In American Democracy

"The preservation of the spirit and faith of the nation," he declared, "does and will, furnish the highest justification for every sacrifice that we may make in the cause of national defense."

"Prophets of the downfall of American democracy have seen their dire predictions come to naught," the President said.

"Democracy is not dying."
"We know it because we have seen it revive—and grow."

"We know it cannot die—because it is built on the unhampered initiative of individual men and women joined together in a common enterprise—an enterprise undertaken and carried through by the free expression of a free majority.

"We know it because democracy
alone, of all forms of government, enlists the full force of man's enlightened will."

"We know it because democracy
alone has constructed an unlimited civilization capable of infinite progress in the improvement of human life."

"We know it because, if we look below the surface, we sense it still spreading on every continent—for it is the most humane, the most advanced, and in the end the most unconquerable of all forms of human society."

Cites Future Advancements In Nation
Referring briefly to domestic policy, Mr. Roosevelt said that the hopes of the republic "cannot forever tolerate undeserved poverty or self-serving wealth."

"We know," he added, "that we still have far to go; that we must more greatly build the security and the opportunity and the knowledge of every citizen, in the measure justified by the resources and the capacity of the land."

But he reverted quickly to the main theme of his speech, saying it is not enough to achieve these purposes alone.

"It is not enough," he continued,
"to clothe and feed the body of this nation, and instruct and inform its mind. For there is also the spirit. And of the three, the greatest is the spirit."

"Without the body and the mind, as all men know, the nation could not live."

"But if the Spirit of America were killed, even though the nation's body and mind, constructed in an alien world, lived on, the America we know would have perished."

That spirit, the President said, speaks to the United States not only from its cities, towns and villages, but from other nations of the western hemisphere "and from those across the seas—the enslaved, as well as the free."

Warns Of Disruptions From Without
Sometimes we fail to hear or heed the voices of freedom," he said, "because to us the privilege of our freedom is such an old, old story."

Mr. Roosevelt asserted at the outset that in Washington's day the task of the people was to "create and weld together a nation."

In Lincoln's day, he said, the task was to "preserve that nation from disruption from within."

Willkie said that his conferences with the President and Hull were
"a real peril of inaction."

MANIFESTO FOR THE INAUGURATION

No man can know what is going to happen in the United States and to the United States during President Roosevelt's third term. Events have reached one of those momentous stages of flux when whole nations may disappear overnight. Even those who pretend to be strong, who profess to be the masters of this troubled state are seen plainly behind their boasts to be at the mercy of their own weakness.

Some say they cannot understand why anyone should want to be president of the United States in such an unsettled period of history. They explain that at best it can be only a thankless job and that at worst it is like being the captain of a ship that is doomed. Or, if they say they do understand, perhaps they profess to believe no man would want to be president, except for some purpose detrimental to the well-being of his fellowmen.

Fortunately, these aren't representative Americans, nor even an important minority. That is a fact of the utmost importance. It means that the overwhelming majority of Americans have implicit faith in their government and its purposes. They have confidence in Mr. Roosevelt and his principles. They are not full of despair nor beset with doubt. They realize they are living in times that challenge them—times that try men's souls—and they are not afraid.

In all probability the next four years will mark not only another presidential term in the United States but a period of transition in this country and in the whole world. There probably will be momentous and far-reaching changes. Many old traditions may be swept aside. It seems likely that government, which has lagged far behind the industrial revolution, is scheduled for a process of readjustment to the circumstances of modern living. Often, no doubt, the readjustment will look like chaos.

What assurance is there that it will not be chaos? How can any man be sure that doubts and misgivings should not be given more weight than faith and confidence? What justifies belief in a greater future for mankind than anyone now can see? Will there be any more golden ages? Has the dignity of man been sacrificed to autocrats and are the dark ages descending again? Why should Americans think the most glorious days for them as a nation and as individuals are still ahead? Why should they look forward to a better world?

The answer is in each man's heart. It lies in his personal convictions about what is right and what is wrong, what should be and what shouldn't be, what can be and what can't be. For 150 years this country has been developing itself against the day when its sustaining beliefs would be challenged. It has been held together by faith in its institutions and its leaders, such faith as a majority of Americans feel today in the leadership of President Roosevelt, first chief executive to be given a third term. American history hasn't been suspended; it is being made more rapidly, more momentously than ever before.

All through the ages the torch of civilization has been held aloft because each time it threatened to fall there were hands outstretched to catch it and accept responsibility for leadership. Those hands today are American, guided by the principles of freedom and representative government, steadied by determination that those principles must not perish.

When President Roosevelt takes the oath of his office, "to preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States," he will be speaking for the millions of his countrymen who likewise have dedicated themselves to the greatest proposition ever conceived by the mind of man—the proposition that men are brothers.

ON THE RECORD

Of one thing only may there be certainty. Some of the words being shouted into the record for the people to look at now and their posterity to ponder over in the years to come are going to be hard to eat when the time comes.

And of course it will come. It came after World War I, and it will come after World War II. It will come after every stormy passage in human affairs, because that's when men who have the temerity to be sure always speak with the most certainty.

Due to the fact they don't agree, obviously they can't all be right. One side must be wrong, or what sometimes is even more uncomfortable, both sides. But because they're on the record—in direct quotations—they are denied the privilege of being wrong in silence, like the ordinary citizens whom they hoped to influence. Their bad guesses will be hung around their neck like an albatross. Their enemies will whisper quotations from their speeches and testimony in the night-time and shout them in the daytime. It's just one of the reasons that war is what William Tecumseh Sherman said it was.

THE LIMIT IS TOO FAR

It remains to be seen what state legislatures and local appropriating bodies are going to do about preserving the national credit. They are being warned by every observer worth his salt that it's unsafe to take their cue from Washington, where money must continue to flow like water, only more so under the defense program.

While public attention is fixed on a national debt soaring past 50 billion dollars, there is a local debt of about 20 billion that should be and could be reduced. To the extent that it is reduced, ability to carry the increasingly heavy national debt will be increased.

The danger is that the limit of safe indebtedness, which experts admit they can't define, will be reached while it still seems pleasantly remote. If, for instance, the limit for federal, state and local debt combined were in the neighborhood of 100 billion, it would never do to let the total debt get into that neighborhood. In other words, the time to evade the consequences of getting to the end of a rope is about 50 feet from the end of the rope.

Either some part of America's government debt will be paid off while incomes are rising and tax revenues are increasing, or the opportunity will be lost forever.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, January 21

A FAIRLY lively state of affairs is the augury based on the lunar transits. But withal there may be sudden disruptions or disagreeable situations to cope with by determination, sound judgment and hopeful philosophy and not by depressed, despondent and "what's the use" outlook.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a rather routine year, with pursuit of the needful duties, but with persistence, determination and optimistic philosophy rather than one of gloom and futility. Seek cheerful companionship, in the home, social diversion, artistic developments, even in romantic adventure.

A child born on this day should be serious minded, perhaps have a rather defeatist philosophy, although have some degree of enterprise and originality.

Here is an eminent scientist who is quoted as saying: "It was ages after primitive man learned to count that his mind could comprehend zero." What did he have to count?

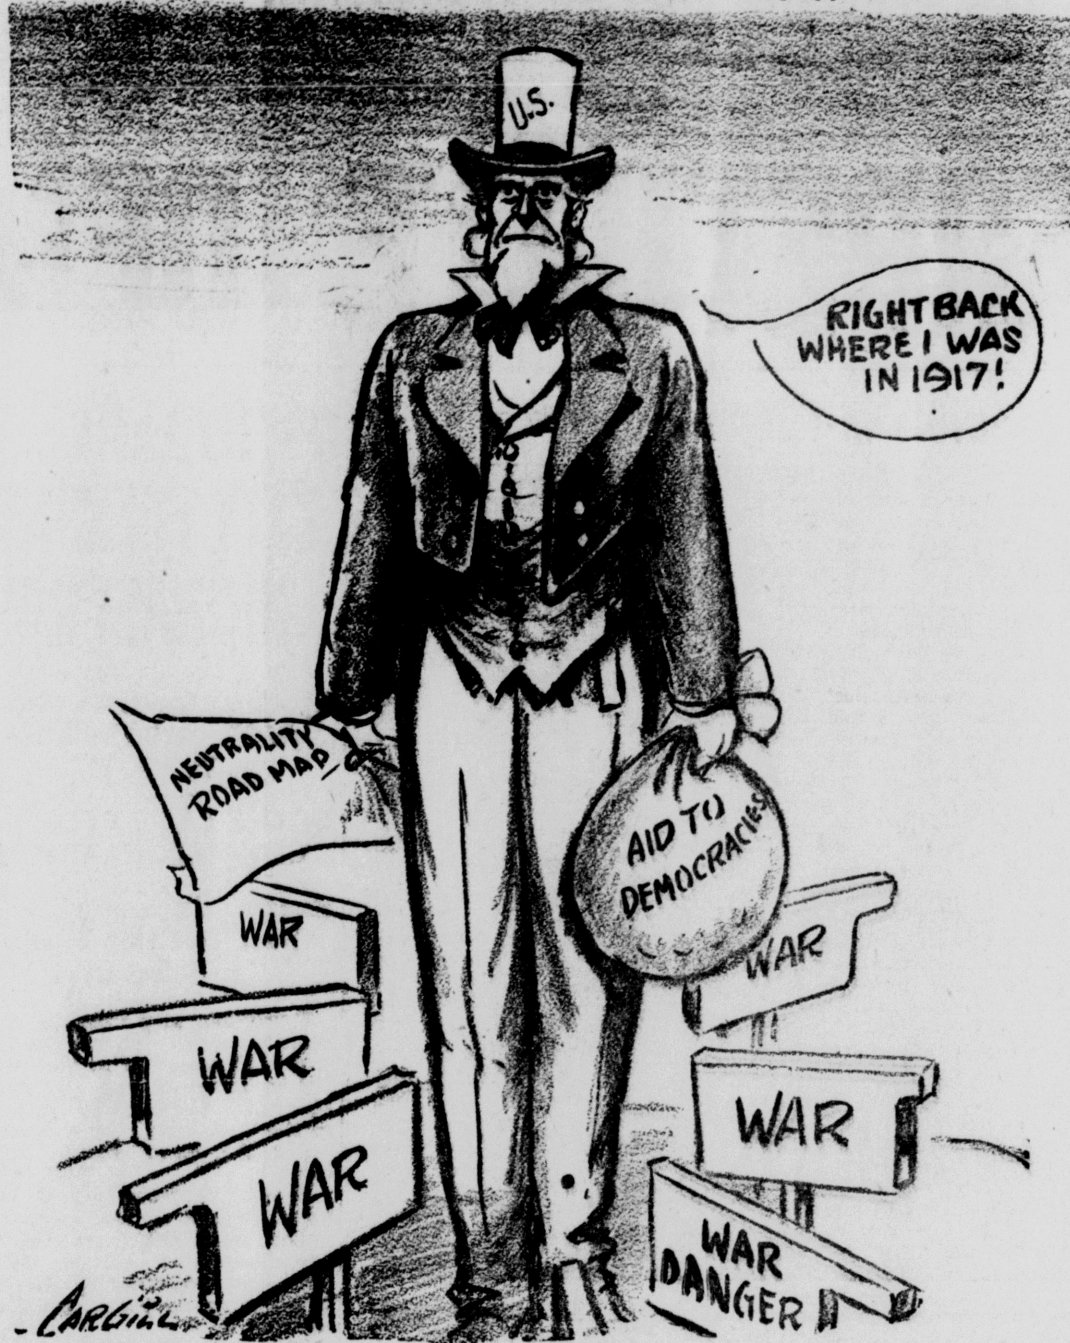

Headlines say: "Noted Physician Says That Long Life is Hereditary." Doubtless, but what is the inheritance that causes one not to be killed by a hit and skip driver?

War is upsetting. It has become the master of multiplication, addition and subtraction. Men whose faces were set toward a fixed goal are going to miss the bus.

America has few Fascists. A real Fascist is one who would rather let Hitler take the country than to see common men get out of hand.

Another thing we note recently is that Mexico is behaving cordially toward the United States—evidently she's been observing how Canada acts.

PROBLEM OF TRANSFUSIONS

Blood Banks Are Created In War Time

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Last week I mentioned the fact that the committee on national preparedness had appointed medical committees to attack certain problems and one of them is blood transfusion. One of my friends asked me just what problem was involved because he thought transfusion was a form of medical treatment which had been solved.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

technically. Perhaps my readers will be interested in the explanation.

Transfusion of blood from one human being to another has been indeed, one of the great advances in treatment. It is valuable in surgical shock, in hemorrhage after any injury, and, therefore, of course, particularly valuable in war surgery for war wounds. Military practice, however, creates problems in regard to transfusion which are not met with in civil life.

Blood Banks

In large scale engagements a great deal of blood is needed and donors cannot be spared from the fighting line. The first attempt to solve this problem was to create blood banks. As is well known, people must be tested to see whether the blood they give will fit the blood of the recipient. There are certain diseases known as "universal donors" whose blood can be transfused into anybody without harm. These blood banks are obtained from the universal donors and stored in sterile flasks with an anti-coagulant, sodium citrate, added. The trouble with this was that these banks are liable to degenerate and cause severe reactions when transfusion is given.

It took six months of the present war for the British to rediscover what was found in 1916; that glucose added to these blood banks will do much to preserve the blood and reduce reactions. It has been further found, however, by the British and French, that whole blood is not necessary. When hemorrhage occurs, and often in surgical shock, the principal difficulty is simply lack of fluid in the blood vessels. Salt solution put in simply pours out through the kidneys and sweat glands, but it is possible to replace the volume by the use of blood serum, or blood plasma, which is the substance which results after a clot has formed in drawn blood.

Use of Plasma

The plasma banks have proved very useful and are not subject to the deterioration that occurs in whole blood banks. The only objection to them has been their bulk. A new development has been that the plasma is allowed to dry so that very large amounts of what is potentially blood plasma can be stored in a relatively small space and moved with moving troops. All that is needed to be done is to add some sort of a diluent so that this plasma is put back in solution.

This series of experiences, with gradual improvement, has been the result of a great deal of work on the part of the English Medical Research Council and the Medical Department of the U. S. Army.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. D. P.: "Is the constant taking of Brewer's yeast harmful?"

Answer—I know of no report which indicates that it is possible to get an overdose of Brewer's yeast. It is the kind of a product that self-limits its own dosage because very few people would care to take more than reasonable amounts.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E. 45th st., New York. THE OHIO BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

"TRIAL WITHOUT JURY"

By JAMES RONALD

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX
The desk telephone rang sharply. Sheriff Black lifted the receiver. "Yes? Who? What does he want? Oh, all right, send him in."

Black replaced the receiver and frowned at the Inspector. "Simon Osborne," he said. "Now what can he want?"

In a few moments Simon entered the room. For once in his life his bearing was far from jaunty. All the bounce, the braggadocio, the unbridled swagger that usually distinguished him were missing. His unhappy face lengthened when he saw that Stephen and Ann were present.

"I am ashamed to face you, Stephen," he stammered. "This ghastly affair is all my fault. I could have prevented it. Until the end of my life I shall blame myself for not preventing it. Oh, I'm a worthless old scamp, Stephen, but, if I had only foreseen what would happen, I should have spoken long ago. Tell me, will Edith live?"

Stephen nodded dully. "Thank God! If she'd died, it would have been my fault." "What on earth are you talking about?" Sheriff Black demanded. "The editor of the Sunday World told me of Edith's visit to him. He told me what he said to her. When I read in last night's paper that she had been found dying from poison, I realized instantly what had happened. She left a note, I suppose, confessing to Octavia's murder?"

"I have it here," said the Sheriff. "But—"

"Yes, that is what she would do. That was Edith. The editor told her that there would never be any peace for her family as long as the murder remained unsolved. Edith loved her children. For them, no sacrifice was too great. So she wrote her supposed confession and tried to end her life. If I had only foreseen that this would happen—" "Yes!" said the Sheriff, his voice grown suddenly cold. "If you had foreseen it, what would you have done?"

"I should have revealed the identity of the person who really murdered Octavia."

"Ah!"

"Yes. Almost as soon as I heard the details of the case I knew who did it. It was so obvious. There was only one person who could have done it. Edith? Stephen? Never! Neither of these two loving parents would have murdered Octavia and left their daughter in the room with the body. They would never have submitted her to the ordeal of looking up and seeing a murdered corpse a few feet from where she sat. Nor would Hannah Gale. Oh, Hannah could kill, but not like that. She loves the children almost as dearly as Edith does."

"Ann? No, not Ann. She would not have committed the murder with Dorothy's scarf. Ann's too loyal for that. And her whole temperament would be opposed to murder by strangulation. Dorothy? She's too gentle for murder; in her, the capacity to hurt is wholly lacking. Young Mike could have done it, but not with a scarf—not with Dorothy's scarf. Peter? Marjory? No! They! Why should they kill Octavia? For her money? Rubbish! They don't know what money is. To them five dollars is as much as a million. Oh, the identity of the murderer was obvious!"

"Why didn't you reveal it immediately?"

"I thought I was being clever," said Simon pathetically. "You see, I'm writing a book about the case, and will call it 'Murder in The Family.' I wanted to keep the identity of the murderer to myself until the book was finished. I thought that to publicly announce my solution—simultaneously with the publication of the book—would be a magnificent publicity stunt."

Simon paused, crossed the room, and opened the door.

"Come in," he said.

Miss Mimms came in. During the past months she had aged almost out of recognition. The lined, yellow face was now pitifully emaciated and yellow. She was still dressed in her usual drab clothing. Timidly she blinked about her. When she saw Stephen and Ann her eyes filled with tears. She made an uncertain move toward them, but changed her mind and wearily seated herself on the edge of a chair which Simon brought forward for her.

"You!" cried Sheriff Black, aghast. "You killed Octavia Osborne?"

"I did," she said firmly, although it was only by supreme effort that she kept her voice from trembling. "But why? What possible motive had you?"

"I killed her because in this new will she was going to leave me five thousand dollars a year for life."

"But the will had not been made. By killing her when you did, you prevented her from making it. You robbed yourself of the legacy."

"The legacy..." Miss Mimms mused, ever so faintly. "That was only a joke on Miss Osborne's part. A very cruel joke. You see, I have a growth. It cannot be cured. In July my doctor warned me that I had not longer than six months to live. Miss Osborne knew that. I must have amused her to tease me with a legacy I could not possibly live to enjoy."

"Good grief!" breathed the Sheriff. "It was cruel of her, wasn't it? But she was like that you know. I missed you when you questioned me immediately after the murder. I said she was kind to me. She never was. She was cruel, terribly cruel. But I didn't dare let you see how much I hated her. Making other people suffer was the only real enjoyment she got out of life. She used to treat me like a slave. I never had a minute I could call my own."

"You'd have thought, wouldn't you?"

"Yes, a lady-on-a-budget can have lots of wardrobe changes—if she's clever. Pattern 4683 by Anne Adams shows just how it's done. ## Today's Lesson in Flag Etiquette

● Bunting should be used for platforms or for the decoration of speakers' stands and for general decorations. The blue stripe should always be placed uppermost and the red at the bottom.

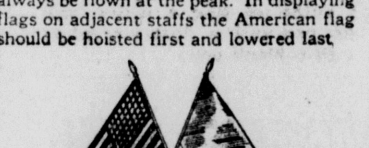

● On patriotic occasions, the flag may be displayed above and behind the speaker against a wall or curtain. If flown from a staff, it should be placed at the speaker's right.

● In church, the flag should be placed at the congregation's right. Other flags should be placed to the left of the congregation. In the church, or on a platform, the flag should be placed at the clergyman's right as he faces the congregation, and the other flags at his left.

● When one halyard is used for two or more flags, the American flag should always be flown at the peak. In displaying flags on adjacent staffs the American flag should be hoisted first and lowered last.

● When the American flag is displayed with another flag with staffs crossed, the American flag should be on the right, with the staff over the staff of the other flag.

This is the fourth of a series of five lessons in "Flag Etiquette" offered to the readers of The Salem News as a timely patriotic feature designed to stimulate proper observance of national flag code regulations.

The others stared in stunned bewilderment at this meek little woman in a drab grey, who sat so submissively with her gloved hands folded on her lap. Miss Mimms smiled faintly.

"Please do not look so concerned, all of you," she said apologetically. "I am not going to hang."

COLUMBIANA

Mrs. Bertha Stiller has returned from Goshen, Ind., where she spent several weeks with her son, Rev. Clarence Stiller, and family.

Seeking its second Tri-County league victory following the easy 42-24 win over Lisbon, Coach Al Beach's Columbiana eagles trek to Minerva Friday night. Last season a Minerva victory enabled that team to tie the Red and White for the league championship. Columbiana has now won six out of nine games played and scored 308 points to their opponents' 242.

Charles Grim of Washingtonville was honor guest when employees of the Northeast Ohio Poultry association held a farewell dinner party at McMaisters' tea room Saturday evening. The affair was arranged by Marjorie C. F. Moser. Covers were laid for 25. Mr. Grim, who has been employed at the local plant, has been drafted and will leave with the local group Tuesday for Cleveland.

Miss Nell Koch will entertain associate members of the Sorosis club at her home Wednesday evening.

REDDING, Cal. — Jack Clark's hopes of going to one of California's penitentiaries instead of back to the reform school were scratched by his father. He had served one term in a reform school. So, when he was arrested on a theft charge he insisted he was 22 and therefore eligible for the "big house."

But his father shattered his hopes by establishing he was only 17.

There's a new word spreading through the vocabularies of car owners who have made firsthand acquaintances with this slick new 1941 Buick.

It's a word we first picked out as an apt description of a new and better engine—but it is rapidly coming to mean a completely new and excitingly pleasurable manner of motorcar travel.

All over the country, "to fireball" now means to enjoy both ease and dispatch in your travel by car—with a very special new manner of thrift.

Not the ordinary, scrumpy, self-denying sort of thrift, but thrift with all the thrills left in!

Now, just why that happens is easy to understand.

*Optional equipment on the Buick SPECIAL, standard on all other series.

Reinforced by Compound Carburetion* this FIREBALL eight develops nearly 17% more horsepower on exactly the same fuel rationing.

With all that power on call, we can use a more economical gear ratio as our standard high gear—a ratio that ups miles per gallon by giving more revolutions of the wheels for every revolution of the engine.

Then, in addition, we have in Compound Carburetion a fuel supply system that adjusts itself according to the driving conditions you meet.

Thus your engine is always getting the utmost benefit out of the least amount of gasoline that will give the performance you want.

And that spells economy.

So much economy that a man who drives 15,000 miles a year gets as much as 2,000 miles' extra driving on the same amount of fuel.

And that, Buick buyers will tell you, is something very much worth looking into through a free demonstration such as any Buick dealer will gladly give.

Millinery for 1941 includes all types of hats, from any bows to large, floppy models. There is a large display of white, however, in every type of hat and it is being worn everywhere. It is a tall white felt turban with a lei of red and white tropical flowers which make an alluring frame for the face. Right is a large hat featuring a gathered, floppy overlapping brim made of white grosgrain ribbon which is bordered with deep blue. ## Mind Ranked Above Appearance, Looks, By Girls Who Are Seeking the Right Man

NEW ORLEANS—American girls should pray for the right man to come along, a leader of thousands of young women believes.

"But they mustn't just sit back and depend on prayer," Miss Dorothy J. Willmann of St. Louis, executive secretary of the central office of the Sodality of Our Lady, said when she came here to speak before a Sodality convention.

"Despite the furor over the modern career woman," Miss Willmann observed, "the chief interest of Miss America still lies in the age-old problem of getting her man."

"More young women have questioned me on this subject than on any other. I tell them the best way is to pray for one—the right one. But they mustn't just sit back then."

"It's important to develop a many-sided mind," Miss Willmann reminded. "A girl should become versed in music, in economics. That last point is vital because young men are worried about that subject just now, and every girl should be familiar with it."

"Naturally," she added, "the girl should make the most of her appearance. But I think that is a secondary consideration."

Miss Willmann contended that young people today are "just as fine as they ever were."

"They are more nervous, more highly-strung than their elders," she added. "But if any of the present youth are spoiled, it's the fault of the older people. They've made this machine age, the luxury age—if that's what it is."

Miss Willmann said she has discovered that a majority of girls want security more than any other thing in life.

Girls who are gloomy or moody, she advised, should go out and buy a red hat, or a pair of shoes, or see a movie.

KENSINGTON MAN IS TRAFFIC VICTIM

George Leroy Oyer, 18, Farmhand, Dies After Being Hit By Cars

Home Oyer of Kensington, and four brothers survive.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Oyer home, and at 2 p. m. in the Hanover Presbyterian church.

Slowly rising temperatures forecast for today were expected to erase much of the ice. The state highway patrol reported roads especially dangerous for travel along the lake and in the eastern section of the state.

Besides the traffic victims, at least three persons died by other violent means. A baby suffocated, a man perished in a fire and a gun killed a trapper.

A transcontinental bus of the All-American Bus line overturned after avoiding collision with a parked automobile near Cadiz. The driver, Clifford P. Riley of Springfield, and 14 passengers were injured slightly.

Four persons were killed by traffic in the Mansfield area. A truck-automobile collision on Route 42 took the lives of Mrs. Hazel Blair, 33, and Cora Lucille King, 25, of Mansfield, while Merle E. Ruble, 27, and Walter F. Campbell, 58, of Shelby, died when a train struck an automobile.

Inaugural Speech Highlights

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Some outstanding passages from President Roosevelt's third inaugural address:

In the face of great perils never before encountered, our strong purpose is to protect and to perpetuate the integrity of democracy.

We do not retreat. We are not content to stand still. As Americans, we go forward, in the service of our country, by the will of God.

The preservation of the spirit and faith of the nation does, and will, furnish the highest justification for every sacrifice that we may make in the cause of national defense.

The life of a nation is the fullness of the measure of its will to live.

There are men who believe... that, for some unexplained reason, tyranny and slavery have become the surging wave of the future—and that freedom is an ebbing tide.

But we Americans know that is not true.

Democracy is not dying.

Democracy alone, of all forms of government, enlists the full force of men's enlightened will.

We know that we still have far to go; that we must more greatly build the security and the opportunity of the knowledge of every citizen, in the measure justified by the resources and the capacity of the land.

Theatre Attractions

Once again writers and movie makers have dipped into American history and come up with enough excitement, romance, adventure and action to make the kind of hit picture "Sante Fe Trail" is. The film starring Errol Flynn and Olivia de Havilland, with Raymond Massey and Ronald Reagan, shows at the State tonight and Tuesday.

The sweethearts of that earlier successful adventure film, "Captain Blood", and several others, are reunited in the story of Civil war days in the territory of Kansas, where the U. S. cavalry had its work cut out, keeping law and order in a lawless region which threatened to boil with the struggle between the states.

John Brown, a save-freer, brings a reign of terror upon Kansas in an effort to rid the state of slavery, requiring the heroic efforts of the cavalry troops to keep even a semblance of order. Flynn and Reagan as cavalry officers are in the thick of the battles, while keeping up a friendly rivalry for the hand of Miss de Havilland, operator of a wagon freight service on the Sante Fe.

Massey is seen as John Brown; Van Heflin as a young southerner; Reagan as General George Custer, the brother cavalry officer of Flynn; Moroni Olson as Robert E. Lee, southern military leader; Charles Williams as U. S. Grant, northern leader; and Louis Payne as Stonewall Jackson.

London military quarters said the capture of Kassala, held by the Italians since last July, was carried out by "numerous inferior British forces against an enemy very well armed and equipped."

Supported by Ethiopian tribesmen, the British were reported to be pursuing Fascist legions fleeing eastward all along the 200-mile Sudanese border front.

British light tanks and armored cars led the pursuit, it was said, knifing at Premier Mussolini's east African domain in a drive keyed with the British counter-invasion against the Italians in the Libyan desert of North Africa.

With the African theater assuming front-rank importance, Hitler's high command disclosed anxiety that Nazi bombers attacked "militarily important objectives" in the Suez canal zone—vital link in Britain's lifeline to her far east possessions—apparently flying from the new German dive-bomber base at Catania, Sicily, 1,000 miles away.

and upper throat where most colds start.

NOTE: If by chance you have a head cold, a few drops of Vicks Vapo-Rub on both sides of the nose should quickly relieve misery. It helps soothe irritation, shrink swollen membranes and clear out mucus-clogged nasal passages. As a result it makes breathing freer and easier and brings you comfort.

TIME-TESTED VICKS VAPORUB

To Quickly Relieve Miseries of Developed Colds

3 minutes on IMPORTANT RIB-AREA OF BACK as well as throat and chest. Spread a thick layer over chest and cover up. *This more thorough treatment actually increases the important STIMULATING-POULTICE action and PENETRATING-VAPOR action of VapoRub. And makes this famous old family standby work faster and longer to relieve distress of colds.

TIME-TESTED VICKS VAPORUB

First of all, get plenty of rest, good sound sleep. Eat simple but nourishing food—vegetables and fresh fruits if available. Drink plenty of water and keep elimination regular. Take some exercise every day—preferably outdoors in clean, fresh air. Then let trustworthy Vicks help you.

REMEMBER THIS... Both Vapo-Rub and VapoRub have been thoroughly tested through years of constant use in millions of homes. If the miserable symptoms of the cold are not relieved promptly—or if more serious trouble seems to threaten—call in your family physician right away.

Plumbing And Heating Sales Up 13 Per Cent, J. R. Stratton Says

SALEM PLUMBING CONCERN IS BUSY

Prices Remain Steady Despite Rush Of Building Activity

Spurred by the dual stimulus of large governmental expenditures for defense housing and a substantial increase in residential construction activity, plumbing and heating sales increased 13 per cent in 1940 over 1939, J. R. Stratton, local master plumber states.

A further gain of 14 per cent in sales is expected in 1941 when the government's program for defense housing gains increasing momentum.

With the rapid expansion of power lines in rural districts under both governmental and private sponsorship, sales of electric water systems have increased 435 per cent in the last eight years. Also contributing to the surge in the sales of automatic water systems is the trend of population away from the large centers and toward the suburbs and beyond the city limits.

Despite the gain of 13 per cent in plumbing and heating sales in 1940 prices of staple materials have been steady. No appreciable advance in the price of plumbing and heating was recorded in 1940 by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The stability of plumbing and heating prices is particularly significant in view of the increased demand as well as the remarkable improvement in everything entering into a complete plumbing and heating installation, Stratton points out.

Not only have plumbing fixtures been improved in color, design, and styling, but they are more durable and cost less to operate and maintain. Similarly boilers are more efficient, radiators more compact, thermostats more accurate, and the entire heating system is more economical to operate.

Let Child Choose Own Instrument

If you would like your children to take to music lessons like ducks to water, be sure you give them enough water, so to speak.

It is always advisable to let the child find his own affinity among the musical instruments. Many a good horn-player has been lost in a mediocre pianist, and many a child forced into studying the violin would be enthusiastic about playing the cornet.

"The old-fashioned method of giving a child only piano-lessons or violin-lessons," is responsible for the many musical might-have-beens you meet every day—people who wistfully remark, 'I wish I had kept on with my music'. The reason they didn't—and the reason most children don't—is that their musical diet has been too sparse. Starting a child's musical education with one instrument is forcing him to specialize in an instrument to which he may not respond favorably."

Naturally, it would be an expensive affair to provide a child with a dozen different instruments of his own, but Salem has a music school where different instruments can be tried out. The Finley Music company at 132 S. Broadway encourage this method.

Once your child has selected the instrument which he wants to learn to play, do not take advantage of his first flush of enthusiasm by forcing him to practice for hours on end, simply see to it he gets his daily lesson. The best method of sustaining his interest is to arouse the spirit of competition which is strong in all children. Class instruction as soon as he can join the school band combined with individual tutelage is the solution.

Thus modern music pedagogy sets the pattern for a harmonious society in which everyone will play some instrument well enough to provide enjoyment and relaxation for the others.

NEW MERCURY IS POPULAR MACHINE

More Salemites Get 1941 Models For Family Automobile

For the motorist who wishes a 1941 car not so much more expensive than those of the low-price field, the new Mercury has particular fascination, according to Earl Grate, head of garage and Ford agency on South Ellsworth which bears his name.

A longer, bigger, faster-riding, faster-accelerating Mercury is being purchased and demonstrated this year. This big car value catches the eye with its new sweeping speed lines, Mr. Grate says.

Demonstration of any Ford-built car will be arranged by salesmen of the Grate organization, which also sells Ford trucks in this area. Invitation to inspect cars in the Grate showroom is given, with a suggestion that facilities the modern Ford garage be used for auto service while the showroom visit is made.

Smart Exteriors
The car which made tenth place in its first year and strengthened it last year, looks as though it should go even further in 1941.

The smart new exteriors with their bright metal fender speed-lines, new chrome radiator grilles, doors that enclose the running boards, hidden gasoline filler cap, new chrome fender-top parking lights, and heavier bumpers, with center mounted front license plate are a few of the exterior points which will be immediately observed as new on the 1941 Mercury-8.

The Mercury new has a two-inch longer wheelbase with spring base increased in proportion to 129 inches. The sedan body is roomier, the front seat measuring 57½ inches, in width from door to door, and the rear 51 inches. The easier riding of these bodies is not all due to the increased roominess, but is enhanced by the new full luxury type individual cushion springs used. Over these is a heavy pad of foam rubber which contributes to the unusual softness found in the cushions. The instrument panel is redesigned, placing all the gauges and speedometer under a single glass directly in front of the driver, where they may be clearly seen through the "clear vision" two-spoke steering wheel.

Spring Change

The most interesting mechanical change is that of the spring suspension, which continues the use of the well known transverse springs but with changes that give the Mercury one of the smoothest boulevard rides found in any car.

To accomplish this several things have been done. The frame is of new construction with a welded center section, which makes it more than twice as rigid as before. The springs have been lengthened in the rear, and have a greater effective length both front and rear. As a result, they are softer and slower in action. The lever-type hydraulic shock absorbers have been improved in sensitivity to match the new springs.

Metal spring covers are found on all models and the springs are internally lubricated through grooved spring leaves.

CINCINNATI—Patrolman Harry Holtman solved a robbery by pulling at a piece of clothesline hanging over an alley fence. Tied to the other end of the line were five new radios stolen from a nearby appliance store.

Paris Cleaners Boast Modern Equipment

The Paris Dry Cleaning plant on Benton road and some of its vital equipment are pictured herewith. Of special interest is the filtering equipment. As you would expect, it filters the solvents, making the solution crystal clear, but of special interest is the fact that no garment is ever touched with solvent until it has gone through the filter; every ounce of solvent is as free from any foreign matter as it's possible to make it, and your clothes never come in contact with a solution that is carrying even a trace of dirt from some other clothing.

Some garments are washed with special solvents in water, but at the Paris Cleaners even this water is softened and filtered; nothing is ever allowed to come in contact with your garments that could possibly harm them in any way.

Few dry cleaning plants are as well equipped as the Paris plant, and here nothing is slighted. New methods, as they are proven to be better, are adopted. And yet, because of the large volume of business, the Paris Cleaners, do not have to make extra charges for their superior service.

AUTOS ARE GIVEN CAREFUL CHECKUP

Smith's Garage Provides Skilled Mechanics, Best Of Accessories

Just as long as motor vehicles travel over our streets and highways there will be constant demand for the services of experienced mechanics and facilities of a modern garage. That is why the Smith garage at Third and Vine, goes the limit in offering services of skilled repair men and the sale of the best quality auto parts.

Much work is done on cars, not alone to make them run, rather to make them operate more safely and comfortably. Repairs to worn and strained parts, adjustments to improve operating efficiency and replacement of dangerous breeding accessories are specialties at the Smith garage.

Aid Winter Driving
No miracle-making promises are given by mechanics at the garage, assurances are given that the source of almost any auto trouble can be traced and a remedy provided. Men who have had experience with all parts of just about every make of car handle the work.

Safer winter driving means a closer check on the condition of a car, its battery and tires, efficiency of the ignition and lighting system and facilities to add comfort to driving in bad weather. A complete stock of auto electric equipment and ignition parts is maintained.

Test Brakes Now
Brake adjustment and repair is another service which Mr. Smith finds considerably in demand right now. This work done at the Smith garage assures the car owner of a maximum of dependability from his brakes.

The garage also specializes in body straightening and metal repair. An estimate of the cost for repair of body, fenders or other parts damaged in a mishap will be given before the job is started. Complete equipment to handle body repair work is available at the garage.

A service truck for emergency calls to any place in this district is maintained by the garage. Towing service will be provided to the garage or emergency repairs carried out at the location of the car.

SERVICE CENTER ADVISES DRIVERS

Change Oil Regularly, Is Warning Of Pennzoil Auto Experts

New management of the Pennzoil Service Center at State and Jennings has this to say to all motorists:

"To save on engine repair bills, change oil regularly and keep the crankcase full."

To elaborate, they quote the findings of the Pennzoil company laboratories which are operated in connection with their refineries in several parts of the United States:

"Engineers state that six things contaminate motor oil and make it unfit for lubrication: dust, carbon, water, acids, unburned fuel, and particles of worn metal, and that these are the basic causes of rapid engine wear."

Many car manufacturers have added some filter or other device to help remove these causes, but no device is 100 per cent perfect.

Tests prove that the most effective way to eliminate all these is to keep the engine clean by draining the crankcase, flushing it and refilling with new oil every 1,000 miles. In cold weather more frequent draining is necessary because of increased water condensation and consequent dilution.

With the high speed engines of today with high power output, in addition to lubrication oil has another most important job, that of cooling. Just as water is circulated to carry heat from the cylinder head and block to the radiator, where it is cooled, the oil is circulated to remove heat from the bearings, pistons, and other moving parts, and carry it to the oil pan, where heat is dissipated.

A crankcase which is only one-half full will not only cause the oil to run at a higher temperature but every drop of oil must then carry twice as much heat. More oil will be used because high temperatures increase consumption. It is

STATE OVERCOMES BAD BEGINNING TO PACE CONFERENCE

Buckeyes Trip Duquesne For Sixth Straight Triumph; Indiana In Race

COLUMBUS, Jan. 20.—Ohio State's basketballers, pacing the Western conference with three victories and no defeats, apparently have overcome their early-season heaves and gotten their second wind.

The Bucks showed class Saturday in handling Duquesne its first defeat in nine starts. Capt. Gil Mickelson sparking the team to a 44-33 triumph, Mickelson racked up 13 points to lead the scoring.

It was Ohio State's sixth win in 10 starts this season. Indiana, with two victories, is the only other undefeated team in loop competition. The Hoosiers, idle last week, don't have a game until next Monday.

Michigan Loses Four

The long-suffering basketballers of Michigan, Northwestern and Chicago, still are looking for their first conference victory.

Michigan, loser of four straight, is host to Minnesota this week; Northwestern, beaten three times, goes to Iowa and twice-defeated Chicago entertains Wisconsin. Ohio State is idle until a Saturday battle with Wisconsin.

Wiscon tripped Purdue a week ago and followed that with a decisive 40 to 30 victory over Michigan Saturday as Gene Englund, big Badger center, moved into the top spot in the conference's individual scoring contest. Illinois, keeping pace with the Badgers, defeated Michigan last Monday and held only a 42-41 overtime decision over Northwestern Saturday.

Columbia Trips

St. Paul, 24 To 8

Columbia St. got off to a good start in the second round of the Mikev Maguire league, licking St. Paul, 24-8.

Martinielli topped the Columbia scoring with 10 points while Kozar bagged six for the losers.

Fourth Street won a close tilt from Prospect, 17-14.

Todd led the victory with nine markers. Parlow and Vissor paced Prospect.

McKinley gained a 21-17 win over Reilly.

Laughlin tallied seven points for the winners while Minor headed the losers with five.

New Buck Coach With Captain

Captain Jack Stephenson and Paul Brown

The local keggers made a clean sweep in three special matches held at Grate's alleys over the weekend.

The Ford V-8s took Arts of Alliance into camp 2381 pins to 2151 in a Saturday night tilt.

In Sunday's matches, the Grate No. 1 team defeated Toronto 2581 to 2433, and the Grate No. 2 outfit trimmed the Toronto Girls 1996 to 1904.

The Salem Eagles lost a 2788 to 2634 decision to the Barberton club Saturday night at the Masonic alleys. D. Shannon was really leading the maples for the visitors as he banged out a 234, 219, 212 for a 665 total.

The Eagle Ladies' team fared somewhat better, gaining a 1982 to 1944 victory over Rich's of Barberton.

At the Wooster, O., Recreation alleys, the Altohouse Motors scored a 2755 to 2706 win over Reed's Mayflowers.

The final meeting for the Ladies Annual Bowling tournament will be held Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple.

At this meeting the team captains will draw for the alley, the hour, and the night that their team will bowl in the tournament. Other tournament business will also be discussed.

OHIO CAGE SLATE SLACKENS BUT IS FULL OF DYNAMITE

Toledo Leads State-wide Standings; DeSales To Meet Mexico U.

BY FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Jan. 20.—Ohio's collegiate basketball slate drops off to 34 games this week, but the abbreviated schedule is packed with possible dynamite.

Nine of the 34 tilts are in the Ohio conference, and another sends Ohio State's league leaders against Wisconsin in a Big Ten fray at Madison. Sixteen contests are against out-of-state foes, and the opponents cover a range from New York to Mexico.

DeSales of Toledo, which played Association of Windsor, Canada, yesterday, has the distinction of meeting teams from foreign lands twice in the same week, tangle Thursday with the University of Mexico at Toledo.

Two of last week's 48 games were postponed, the Wilmington-Cedarville clash because of icy roads, and the Ashland-Ohio Northern tilt because of the influenza epidemic.

Toledo Leads State

When the smoke cleared from the others, however, Toledo university was firmly entrenched in first place in the statewide standings with 10 wins in a row. Ohio Northern led the Ohio loop with five straight, Ohio State topped the Big Ten with three conquests; Wooster's 35-game Ohio conference winning streak had ended, and Western Reserve had fallen from the unscuffled class.

To stay on top of the state standings, Toledo must turn back two tough foes this week. The Rockets meet West Virginia tonight, but face a much sterner test Saturday as Bradley Tech of Peoria, Ill., invades Toledo.

Ohio Northern has dates with Denison and Findlay in the Ohio conference but the Polar Bears are expected to stay up there. However, Otterbein wasn't conceded a chance Wednesday night at it halted Wooster's 36-game league winning streak, 33 to 21, so anything may happen.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Tattle tales: Charley O'Rourke, the Boston college grid star, has hired a manager and is available for all engagements—from personal appearances to endorsements.

Squire Gene Sarazen has just about closed to take over the Mt. Vernon C. C. at Tuckahoe, N. Y. The Sonja Honey ice troupe which opens here tonight, travels in a special train of 12 Pullmans.

Today's Guest Star

Fred Russell, Nashville Banner: College boys can play football and pass their classroom work. Exhibit A is the 1940 Vanderbilt freshman squad. Only one of the 27 fresh awarded football numerals failed to pass a sufficient number of hours to remain in school.

On the Fifti-cuff

Henry Armstrong will put the finishing touches on his book, then decide whether to go into the whiskey business or organize and lead a dance band. Those who were there say Larry Atkins did a big league job in every respect in staging the Bettina-Christofides fight in Cleveland. The California commission will order a five-buck bet for the Louis-Cedey go in Los Angeles. (No more of those Louisville things at sucker prices).

The Wailing Wall

Here's the first football moan. Carl Shavey told reporters at Charleston, S. C. "Our situation is not so favorable. Twenty-six men to be lost. Freshman material weak. That sounds like Mr. Shavey, all right. As sad as ever.

Sports Cocktail

More than half the 35 players on the Yankee reserve list are pitchers. Mary Pickford poured tea in Hollywood yesterday for the five National Football league stars who are driving ambulances across the country in an aid-for-Britain drive. Because of the record of influenza, some colleges in the south are playing basketball games to empty houses rather than call them off. Only players, officials and sports writers are allowed in. If Larry MacPhail wins his fight to have visiting teams stop at Brooklyn hotels instead of those in Manhattan, it will mean $300 per day to the Flatbush inns. Incidentally, the Dodgers may sign Paul Waner who still is pretty good in the crotch.

News From Newsom

Buck Newsom arrived in Columbus, S. C., from Hartsville at 1:30 a. m. the other day. He woke up the proprietor of a riding academy, bought a pony on the spot, dumped the bewildered animal in the rear of his glistening new convertible and headed for home at 2 a. m.

BAPTISTS DEFEAT ST. PAUL, 17 TO 15

Stewart Scores Winning Goal In Last Minute Of Play

The Baptist cagers nosed out the St. Paul crew, 17-15, in a see-saw Class C battle Saturday at the Memorial building.

Stewart tallied the winning bucket for the Baptists with less than a minute to play. Drakulich and D. Lantz aided the winners with six points each while Cidri led St. Paul with seven.

The Trinity passers trounced the Presbyterians, 33-19.

P. Nocera and Scullion led the assault with nine markers each. Bloor and Beeler paced the losers with six tallies each.

The Emmanuel had a field day, swamping the Nazarenes, 59-22.

Sell was the big point-getter for the Emmanuel, garnering eight goals for 16 tallies. DeJane and Hill each accounted for six markers to pace the losers.

The Christians took the Methodists by a 21-11 count.

Workman dropped ten points through the hoop to lead the Christian scoring. Hart, Snyder and Taffin accounted for all the Methodists tallies.

LOCALS PREPARE NEW ATTACK FOR VISITING RIVALS

Salem Passers Show Plenty Of Scoring Punch In Practice Sessions

The Salem High passers will return to the cage wars Tuesday night when they play host to the Warren Harding Presidents.

There was some doubt over the weekend as to whether the game would be played because of the old man influenza. However, Superintendent E. S. Kerr announced today that the game would go off as scheduled.

Coach Herbert Brown has been drilling his lads in fast-breaking offensive tactics all week in hope of producing more scoring punch in the Quaker's attack. His efforts have been amazingly successful if last Friday's practice session was any indication.

The varsity squad was split into two teams and the Red edged the White, 52-40 in a wild fray. However, Coach Brown remains none too optimistic concerning his team's chances against the Presidents because the Salem passers have shown championship qualities before in practice sessions but have fallen down when the heat was on.

The local reserve outfit will be out for its seventh straight triumph Tuesday night.

LEASE-LEND BILL ATTACKS CONTINUE

Foes Talk Of Substitute Measure As Willkie Prepares For Trip

"very pleasant" and added that they had "extended every courtesy" for his forthcoming trip.

Administration leaders said they thought Willkie's visit to the White House would tend to bolster Republican support of the lend-lease measure, even though Willkie suggested three modifications—a time limit on the extraordinary powers granted the President, congressional retention of the "purse strings" and a section-by-section congressional study to determine whether all the authority conferred on the chief executive was necessary.

Despite this adjournment of Congress for the inauguration, the house leadership considered ways to hasten action on the aid-to-Britain legislation. White House lieutenants were hopeful that the foreign affairs committee would wind up public hearings by the end of this week and send the measure to the floor next Monday or so.

Joseph P. Kennedy, who criticized some provisions of the bill in an address Saturday night, will testify tomorrow, and Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh is among the witnesses to be heard later in the week.

FINANCES SEEM LITTLE MUDDLED

Proposal To Aid Cities Actually Would Help State Government

By E. E. EASTERLY

COLUMBUS, Jan. 20.—The financial juggling suggested in administration quarters to relieve indigent local governments may give a bigger piece of pie to the state government.

While designed to make available an additional $3,000,000 a year to the cities and counties for general operating expenses, it actually would deprive them of $6,000,000 a year.

Here's the proposition: The legislature would authorize the local governments to use for general expenses about $9,000,000 which they receive annually from the automobile license tag tax. They now spend this on streets and highways.

Then the legislature would reduce from $12,000,000 a year to $6,000,000 the share of sales tax revenue received by the local governments—money which they already can spend for general expenses.

The $6,000,000 taken from the cities and counties could be turned into the state's general revenue fund, and it is just what Gov. John W. Bricker needs to complete payment of the school foundation program deficit in 1941-42.

(Incidentally, payment of the $12,000,000 debt in Bricker's second term is primarily his own idea. School interests say they are not insisting upon it.)

Enactment of such a program would force the local governments to divert money from street and road maintenance to other purposes, for they would have to make up the loss of $6,000,000 in sales tax revenue.

Automobile clubs and highway and petroleum interests are expected to oppose the program. The Cuyahoga County Mayors association, composed of 48 mayors, city managers and solicitors, also are on record as opposing the plan.

OHIO DELEGATES AT INAUGURATION

Democrats And Republicans Alike Flocking To Washington Today

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Ohio was well represented by both Democrats and Republicans at President Roosevelt's third inauguration today.

Much in evidence was smiling Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati, Democratic national committeeman, who conferred with party congressmen from Ohio over the weekend and said he intended to talk with National Chairman Edward J. Flynn and other party leaders before returning home after the colorful ceremonies.

Although Democrats were in the limelight, John W. Bricker, two-term Republican governor, needed a legislative delegation to the national capital.

Named officially to represent the Ohio legislature were Sens. Joseph Jameson and Albert L. Daniels, Republicans, and Wayne L. Hays, Murray S. Parker and John P. Connelly, Democrats; and Reps. Harold Mason, Albert A. Shilling and William Hudlett, Democrats, and W. B. McChesney and Floyd F. Mees, Republicans.

Prominent Democrats besides Sawyer intending to witness events included Mrs. Mildred Jaster of Cleveland, national committeewoman, and State Chairman J. P. Bittinger.

Offices of Ohio congressmen were open to visiting throngs and the legislators reported receiving scores of requests for tickets to reviewing stands. They were able to fill only a few of the requests.
